Oscar Pistorius of South Africa (C), Javere Bell (L) of Jamaica and Isabelt Juarez of Italy compete during the men's 400 meters event at the 23rd International Athletics Meeting in Lignano Sabbiadoro July 17, 2012. After striving to qualify for the 400 metres at the London Olympics for six years, Oscar Pistorius believes he will now be better placed to run at the Rio de Janeiro Games in 2016. The South African, who wears carbon fibre blades, will become the first double amputee to compete in the Olympics. REUTERS/Alessandro Garofalo (ITALY - Tags: SPORT ATHLETICS OLYMPICS)
